What is Iota Tradition?

As defined in brief:

Tradition is the transmission knowledge, opinions, doctrines, customs, practices, etc. from generation to generation.

A body of beliefs and usages handed down.

Remembrance or recollection existing as by transmission.

Of recent, much controversy has surrounded Iota Chapters new member programming as to its veracity, validity, and volition. Many have been vocal, expressing differing viewpoints as to Iota traditions.

Our interpretations of these and our acceptance of, is the bottom line. Change has already happened, as it has before, most always for the better. For now, we must find common ground.

I've often wondered what the "programming" was like in Nahum's time. I'm sure few things resemble some of today's. How about 1938, or the 1940 class? Since documentation is spotty, who can say? Likely nothing like today. I've heard say "That's not Iota", and "We never did that"! So then, is there an Iota tradition, really?

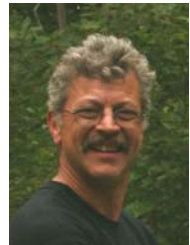

In the definition I opened with, you'll notice nothing is represented tangibly. Our tradition is teaching, challenging, and the "building of character", as mentioned in our preamble: "In keeping with the ideals of Kappa Delta Phi, and the oaths we willfully took for life."

So how do we continue with this in today's world of liability, risk, political correctness, and individual rights? By holding true to that core belief.

I'm sure the programming I went through in 1976 resembles little in comparison to those of you who pledged in the 40's, 50's, or early 60's. No doubt some "good" things were forgotten. Although, technically, since 1967 we have documentation, from 1976 to date, programming has been relatively consistent.

But all that does, truly, is make the "application" easier. Different programming each year or class would certainly be a nightmare. What it's all about is the symbolism behind it, what they come away with. For example, Big Brothers, and paddles. What for? Because I had to make one, something nice to hang on my wall, or to use as such? No, it's the commitment made to craft it, to the best of my ability, humbly, as a token, an expression of thanks, for a Brother giving his time to direct and encourage me.

So, to clarify, I have no line item list of things an initiate must do before he becomes a Brother. Tradition is "Teaching", not "Hazing", and teaching is done through tasks, lessons, and observing. Whatever our new programming consists of tangibly is not so much the issue as what they come away with, a program with this depth I could certainly support.

Shown here from 2002-2003 on. To save space, Brothers who have not paid Alumni dues since 2002 have been removed from this list, though their contributions still remain in our permanent record. 2 names have been removed in this issue, with no new one added. That and the number of blanks in the “09-10” column indicate a marked decline in membership and contributions this year. So, if your name is not on the list*, please consider becoming a Brother In Good Standing. If you are on the list, thanks again for your support. We hope you’ll continue it in the future.

Δ – Indicates In Good Standing for the year.

Φ - Indicates a contribution above the $50.00 membership dues.

Thanks to all of you for your support over the years. Your contributions have allowed us to continue our efforts in supporting the active brotherhood, and further promote the ideals of Kappa Delta Phi.

 If your name is missing, or a box is not marked as it should be, please accept our apologies and let us know immediately so we can correct our records.*

Upcoming Events

Reunion 2009

It's that time again, folks. As always, the annual summer reunion will be held the first Saturday in August, this year on the first day of the month.

The location will once again be the home of Scott "Cranbo" Cranston, at 260 Saco Road in Standish, Maine. Scott has foolishly graciously offered to open his home for the third time in a row. Festivities will begin at 11:00am and continue, if history is any indicator, until well into Sunday morning. As always, we will provide grill and condiments, so bring your favorite food and beverage, and prepare to party!

The Association will hold it's annual meeting at 3:00pm. Elections for all Association officers will be held. All Brothers are welcome to attend and contribute their ideas and input, but you must be a member in good standing for the 2009-2010 year to vote or to be elected for an Association office. Brothers in Good Standing have already received their nomination form in the mail (call or e-mail me if you didn't receive yours). Current nominees are: President - Mark Tschamler, Vice President – Mark Embury, Secretary - Alan Zeller, and Treasurer - Dan Trevette.

Directions

There are a number of routes from Portland to Standish, but the easiest is probably Route 22, which runs out of Portland via outer Congress Street. Take exit 5B off of Interstate 295 and go west on Rt. 22. Cranbo's place is 20 miles from Portland (Rt. 22 becomes Saco Rd. when you get to Standish). You can also take exit 48 off the Maine turnpike in Westbrook and take Rt. 25 west for about 15 miles to Saco Rd; turn left and go about a mile to Cranbo's, at #260.

If you're coming from the south or north and want to bypass Portland, check your DeLorme's map; use Mapquest, MSN Maps, or something to plot a route. However, there is a maze of secondary roads out there and it's easy to get lost, so I recommend traveling to Portland or Westbrook first and taking one of the routes above.

Annual National Alumni Association Meeting

This year's meeting will be on Saturday, October 10th, at the Holiday Inn Express Conference Center, 352 North Maine St., Saco, ME.

Meeting time is 10:00am. The National Alumni Board will meet at 8:00pm the previous (Friday) evening at the same hotel.

Following the Saturday meeting, we will join the Kappa Delta Phi National Affiliated Sorority Alumnae Association for lunch.

News From the Brothers

It's always a treat to hear from Brother Ed. I had the pleasure of joining him, along with others from the National Board and the Iota Alumni Association, for dinner at DiMillo's Restaurant last month. It was there that Ed remarked on the passing of Brother Mort Strom. Mort was an early recipient of the Associations Crow's Nest award, having been instrumental in having several grants awarded to the Iota Alumni Association through MBNA's Excellence in Education program.

However – late breaking news has revealed the rumors of Mort's demise, as they say, were greatly exaggerated. Kappa Iota Sister Kim Lincoln reported having seen and heard Mort speak at an event in Camden, Maine recently, and claims to have photographic evidence! Mort – sorry about the premature obituary – glad you're still with us!

Dear Chops,

Just cleaned out my email after a couple weeks and ~~found~~ found your message. As for Morton Strom, it was my college roommate that told me had passed away. I'm not sure when this was. I do buy the Gorham Alumni Directory when they publish a new one every few years. The last edition dated 2008 does not have his name listed. The edition before that - dated 2003 has his name listed and he was living in Camden - had a wife, a daughter, and two sons. Death must have occurred sometime between 2003 and 2008.

I do enjoy your Iota Alumni issues. In your Fall 2008 issue you had a mystery picture. This was your 1990 Christmas card taken sometime after 10/28/90 as three of those in the picture took Third Degree on that date.

Steven M. Baumann; Scott A. Riiska; Jonathan M. Alexander; Scott D. Tibbitts, alumni (in back); Dalton A. Barter, Rho/Iota; Richard L. Leslie; James J. Mangin (in back); Richard W. Murray; Derek P. Richard; Todd E. Smith; Christopher H. Corbett, Rho/Iota (in back); James R. LaChapelle, Rho/Iota; Matthew R. Ruel; Maurice S. Duff; Steven G. Whitten; Keith R. Talon; and Joseph E. Pearson, Chapter President.

It was nice to see you in Portland. Hope the two new fellows can add to Iota's numbers in the Fall. Both attended the chapter summer workshop in Millinocket.

This year I attended the Gorham Alumni Day on June 6th. Several Iota's from the class of 1959 had lunch together: Ed Hammond and his wife, Willis Redmond and his wife, Ed Sullivan, Conrad Berdeen, and myself. It was enjoyable getting together after so many years.

Trust all is well in Newcastle. With best wishes -

Fraternally,
Ed

Well done on the mystery pic, Ed! You are correct on all counts.

Jeremy “Joker” Lunt (spring ’03), has made the move west, and writes to us from Los Angeles:

After much planning and anticipation, on October 20th, 2008, I packed my belongings into my car and began the long, arduous drive through rain and snow, through deserts, plains and mountains that would take me to California. After a brief stopover in Indiana (where my car had to be repaired) and another one in Arizona to see the Grand Canyon, I arrived in Los Angeles just in time for Halloween. While Maine may be suffering because of the recession, California is being hit even worse with double-digit unemployment, a massive state budget deficit and millions of migrant workers who are suddenly idle. Nonetheless, within a few weeks I was working as a production assistant on several movie productions of no particular importance, and now I’m the director of submissions at a producer’s representative firm that finds distribution for independent films. In January I had the opportunity to travel to Durban, a resort city on the eastern coast of the South African Republic, where I stayed for two weeks at the home of a friend. It was far less of a culture shock than one would imagine – during my two weeks there I probably watched more American TV shows than I have in the past six months in America. But it still was a bit of a surprise when one drives down the street in the middle of an urban area, only to have to brake for monkeys crossing the road!

Jeremy and friend in the wilds of the South African Republic.

Marty Murphy (spring '79), recently made the move back to New England, and now resides in Orford, NH.

Greetings Chops, Mark, and all other Alumni & Brothers.

I am well and settled back into New England for life. My life has been busy with the move and starting up a new concept restaurant/market here in Lyme, NH. It has been going well for us, quite busy in a tough economic environment. The only downside is I am beginning to finally accept I am getting old, but I am back working my ass off doing 6 days a week & over 70 hours. My body is not happy. Oh well...

Otherwise, life is well. I am happy to be back up in the Great White North and hope to make a visit to this year's reunion. I would love to meet dear friends and catch up with everyone's lives.

I have enclosed a check for $100.00. I apologize for missing last year's dues – it was a hectic time with relocating, so I am catching up.

Lastly for now, let's hope the new administration can take us to a Brave New World. Tough times are ahead, and I pray none of our Fraternity family has suffered much from the economic woes.

Be well all, and if anyone comes by my way, please stop in at St. Gula's on the Green in Lyme to say hi, and I will surely buy you a pint or two.

MTSND;

Martin Murphy

Mystery Pictures

Couldn't decide on one, so we have three mystery pictures this time! As before, we're looking for names, dates, and places, as well as any other information, stories, anecdotes, jokes, etc. about the pictures, people, and events shown.

If you think you have a good mystery picture, or any others you'd like to share, send me copies, and I'll put them in the next issue.

Iota Gains 2 New Brothers

Jacobb Charette and Matt Young joined the ranks of KΔΦ this spring. Both attended the Summer Leadership workshop in Millinocket last May, and look forward to the coming semester. Below is Jacobb's account of the weekend.

Matt and I had a really great time at the summer workshop!!!!!! I picked Matt up at the University of Maine at Augusta, and we had a lot to catch up on, so we talked the whole way up to Millinocket. I think we were so happy to be hanging out again; we were talking, laughing and having a good time and very excited about our weekend. On the ride up to Millinocket, (about a three hour drive) we stopped at our favorite restaurant McDonalds. We had some people doing double takes looking at us with our Greek KDP shirts on, and we were proud. We then headed to the dollar store and picked up some beef jerky and other important supplies.

We ended up finding the camp, and we didn't get lost once. Matt printed out directions that really helped us get to the place. We found the base camp and met with Big Jim, Steve, Ed, Paul, Ray, Wiz, and Psycho. Matt and I chatted with Big Jim upstairs about our plans for the up and coming semester.

We finished our chat with Big Jim, and Psycho showed us to our camp. It was beautiful! It was more like a house. We unpacked our gear, and met our roommates for the weekend from Mu chapter, and the Alpha Alpha chapter. We immediately hit it off with our roommates, and started to share stories, and laughs. We settled in and went to eat a fine supper followed by a fun Icebreaker led by Steve Simo. I started to get to know some of the brother's names and chapters, and I was laughing a lot as we all started to have fun as a big group of brothers. We eventually put some tables together and started to brainstorm some ideas for what we thought KDP stood for. We first drew a tree that stood for Growth, and wrote down words that we thought exemplified our definition of what it meant to be a brother of KDP. I saw words like Pride, education, honesty, friendship, acceptance, loyalty, philanthropy, and honor. On the other side of the paper we wrote ideas that we wanted to get out of the fraternity. I saw words such as friendship, opportunity, achievements, and trust. Steve hung up the giant poster paper on the wall, and I felt very proud to be at the convention. I felt very lucky to be a part of Kappa Delta Phi fraternity.

Iota's newest Brothers
Jacobb Charette and Matt Young,

We then went over some leadership activities with the group, and learned about the importance of goal setting. I had set goals before in my life, but never really took a good look at how to set goals. Steve showed us how to set goals, and how to plan ahead, and make ideas turn to reality. We strategized about how to set up events as we walked back to camp, and called it a night.

The next morning bright and early we set off to go white water rafting on the Penobscot River, and had such a good time. I really learned how to work as a team with the other brothers on the raft as we navigated the rapids in our wetsuits and lifejackets. It was an experience I will never forget. The fun and beauty of the river was breathtaking and got my adrenaline pumping as we paddled for our lives going over class five rapids. It was great to talk and make connections with the other brothers from other chapters and invite them to our campus. I really felt a sense of camaraderie as we ate steak dinner in the woods.

The last night at camp, we talked about seven habits of highly effective people. Steve taught us with PowerPoint about being proactive, and taking action and initiative to get plans done, and how to work as a team and the importance of communication. We also revisited goal setting, and talked about how to set goals with the end in mind. Steve then taught us about setting priorities, and we also learned about values, and the value of listening to people to understand them first, and then seek to be understood second. Steve had all the returning presidents talk about things they learned, and what they wished they had known before becoming president. I listened and really my confidence grew and grew as I heard other people's ideas, and felt Big Jim's support for Matt and I. Big Jim was never too far away, and was very helpful to us. Jim, Matt, and I chatted together and planned our semester out and set some goals for the upcoming semester. Matt and I plan on having 8-10 brothers pledging in the fall, and before the summer convention, I really felt lost, and unsure of myself about how to make progress with this, but after I left summer convention, I felt very confident and excited about the upcoming fall semester and all the plans we talked about that will be a success. I am very grateful to have Big Jim as a field Rep and as a brother, I think with his guidance and friendship Iota chapter will go places, and have much fun.

Sunday morning, we all got into a circle and talked about things we learned over the weekend, and finally said our goodbyes. I was very sad to leave, and I didn't want the experience to end. The weekend with the Kappa family is something I will never forget.

Thanks Jacobb, and welcome to both you and Matt. We look forward to working with you in the fall!

Field Report from Jim Anderson, National Field Representative for Iota Chapter

Jim also attended the Summer Workshop, and had the opportunity to spend some time with the new Brothers. Here's his account of the weekend:

Where's Iota?

Here's Iota, new Brothers Jacobb Charette and Matt Young. Both of the Iota's well represented the chapter at the 2009 Summer Workshop. Along with 14 other chapters, they attended seminars on recruitment, liability, and leadership. They were briefed on goal setting, fundraising, and recruiting.

They made contacts with other chapter leaders and with national board reps.

But the thing that was the main attraction was 'Whitewater'.

The weekend closed with a field rep/ chapter overview of the Leadership Workshop and plans for the fall. Both Jacobb and Matt know they have a boatload of work ahead of them and have made modest goals set for their year ahead.

To all Iota Alumni, when school returns in the fall, stop out on campus. Jacobb is a R.A. and Matt rooms in Woodward. Let them know they're not alone.

Kappa Competes in Toboggan Races!

Brothers Mark Embury, Joe Drenski, Ryan Breault, and Jason Lincoln competed in the World Toboggan Championship last winter. The event is held annually at the Camden Snowbowl Ski Area in Camden, Maine, and has competitors from around the world.

IAA Philanthropy

IAA members Mark Tschamler, Jim Anderson, and Josh Taylor recently volunteered their time to do some painting for the Long Creek Youth Development Center in South Portland. The Brothers are shown here with Center Superintendent Rod Bouffard, who, as it happens, is a Rho Alumnus! Also shown is the letter of thanks from Mr. Bouffard

Dear Mr. Tschamler:

On behalf of the residents and staff at the Long Creek Youth Development Center, I would like to thank your Chapter, James Anderson and yourself took time out of your schedules and volunteered to assist Long Creek in preparation for our ACA reaccreditation. The 5.5 hours you two worked here assisted us in getting to our goal of 100% from the American Correctional Association which we received today. In addition, your Chapters philanthropic work sets an important example for the residents at Long Creek.

Again, thank you so very much for the generosity of your time.

Sincerely,

Kappa Delta Phi Alumni Association, Inc.

Dear Brother;

I am inviting you to join the Kappa Delta Phi National Alumni Association. Our goal is simple – to maintain communication amongst those who share the bond of Kappa brotherhood. We do this by way of the Crow, the Alumni counterpart of the undergrad publication Kappa Talk.

Crow subscribers are also invited to participate in free drawings, alumni gatherings, etc. Look for this and more in the Crow.

The Crow is published semiannually. We are totally self-supporting. So, if you want to be kept informed as to what is going on in your fraternity, then fill out the form below and send it in along with $25.00 or more. Or, if you wish, we are now offering a lifetime "Lantern" membership for $295.00.

Well Brother, that's it! I hope too be hearing from you real soon.
